CHEAP AND DIRECT ROUTE TO THE NORTHERN MINES.

LOOK AT THE MAP OF B. C. AND

examine the line of the Yale and Lytton route and the line of the Douglas-Lillooet route and see for yourselves. Then consider that you have nearly a dozen different fares to pay to different individuals, over different lakes, portages, &c. in the short distance of 100 1/2 miles on the Douglas route, and compare these with the fact that there is but one fare, and one stage, from Douglas to Lytton, and from there you will find that you have saved in traveling expenses nearly sufficient to carry you to Quesnelle River.

Ask any disinterested party who has traveled both routes and you will receive all the proof you desire.

Mule Teams will leave Lytton for Quesnelle River and the Cariboo Mines almost every day during the packing season.

Freight and Passengers will be carried from Lytton to the mines at less charges than from any other point in lower British Columbia.

THE FRASER RIVER ROUTE

Is the only route through the interior of British Columbia provided with Hotels for the accommodation of persons en route to the mines.

From Lytton the traveler ascends Thompson River a distance of 20 miles, and crossing that stream at Cook's and Kimball's Ferry, passes into the valley of the Bosque and into the great "Brigade Trail," which leads on to Quesnelle River. A number of Miners will ascend the North Fork of Thompson River in canoes until they strike the great Cariboo Lake. The North Fork of Thompson and its tributaries are said to flow through a rich Mineral Country equal to the famous Cariboo Range. Those who desire to go to the Cariboo Mines via the North Fork of the Thompson can obtain all necessary supplies at Lytton.

of the Yale and Lytton Route to Quesnelle River, in connection with the Public Houses along the Road, is inducement sufficient to direct all travelers who consider time, safety and accommodations of any importance.

SUPPLEMENT.

A Supplement sheet accompanies this number of the DAILY BRITISH COLONIST.

British American Association in London.

For some considerable time past the question of forming a British American Association in London had been agitated, but till lately no practical point had been reached. About the first of February last a meeting of notabilities was convened at the London Tavern, and after sundry speeches, the first British American Association was formed. The object of the Association is to supply correct commercial and political information respecting the North American provinces, the Pacific colonies included. Hitherto a scarcely believable amount of ignorance has prevailed in England as to the extent, resources, and institutions of British America; and not only among the public at large, but in the Colonial office. Consequently the speakers at the meeting hoped, by diffusing information of every kind respecting the colonies, to draw still closer the relations between them and Great Britain. Allusion was made by Captain Jeris, M. P., to the effect that the Pacific Colonies were not represented at the meeting. We clip from the Canadian News the following extracts from speeches delivered at the meeting, as they throw more light than either of the others, showing the necessity for a British American Association in London.

Judge Halliburton, M. P., said:—He was not aware until he came into the room what the precise object of the association was; but he now saw it was to obviate a difficulty which had been felt by every colonist who came to this country. The colonies of North America had outgrown the form of government which existed formerly at the Colonial office. There was certainly the Colonial office, but it was not the government of the colonies. It was not very easy for persons who came from the colonies to find access to the officials in a place like Downing-street. It was quite true that the business of the colonies was transacted there, but there was a considerable amount of business, which the colonists ought to transact themselves, but over which they had no control. That very day he had some important duties to perform, and went to the Colonial office that morning for the purpose. On asking for the principal secretary, he found he was in Ireland. The next in authority was not there; and, in short, he found no one who could give him any information, and he had to come away as he went, having gone there at great personal inconvenience. It was, therefore, necessary that there should be such an association as this, to give information and advice to individuals connected with the colonies.

The Hon. P. M. Van Koughnet, who was received with cheers, said he had simply to return thanks for himself and his country for the compliment paid to them by that large and important meeting. In speaking upon the main question, the difficulty was to say too little instead of too much; but the subject seemed to be so well understood by the gentlemen who had addressed the meeting that he felt, as a Canadian, quite satisfied to leave the matter in their hands. The importance of the whole question rested upon the communication between this country and the British North American provinces; and the only surprise was, why such an association as that proposed had not been founded before. In many respects their American neighbors had every advantage over Canadians resident in the British capital and in this country. They had their ambassadors, secretaries, consuls, and their officials, by whom they were secured access to official circles, and to general society. No such facilities were offered to the British Canadian, and he had more than once heard of colonists, who, on coming to this country, placed themselves under the protection of the American Minister, and thus, in the character of a Yankee, enjoyed those advantages which, as a colonial subject of her Majesty, were denied. He was not in such a position, because he came here an accredited representative from his Government to the Imperial Government, but he knew how deeply the want of the facilities he had referred to had been felt by many Canadians, who felt themselves, on coming to this country, like cats in a strange garret. [A laugh.] He was quite sure that the British people did not mean any offence against the colonies. It arose simply from the fact that they had not, and could not very well, have a minister resident in the capital; nor could they have consuls and other officers through whose instrumentality these introductions might be made. They were obliged to throw themselves upon the hospitality of private friends or be excluded from society altogether. Such an association, he thought, would be of the greatest service to the British Government and Parliament. Through the medium of that association they would be enabled to obtain full and accurate information as to the state of affairs in Canada. They would not be obliged, as they were at present, to take opinions on matters of imperial and permanent interest from persons or bodies of whose character they might know very little. By means of the association they would be able to obtain that accurate information which might guide them to correct conclusions upon any matter of importance. This would be especially valuable when these questions came before Parliament, and it was certainly much needed, for he had read remarks made in the British House of Commons which exhibited the most profound want of knowledge of even the geography of the British North American provinces. Nay, he had himself only been asked the other day by one who was deeply responsible for the defence of Canada a question, whether Buffalo was in the United States or Canada; and in connection with that, as to the transport of troops to Montreal, which evinced an equal want of information. Very likely if he was asked the same questions about the geography of some parts of our Australian colonies he would show the same kind of ignorance, and therefore he did not make these things a matter of personal complaint or fault-finding. All he said was that this association would provide the means for amending the defect he had pointed out.

A Mean Act

On the 11th instant, by Officer Blake.—While passing by the house of Mrs. Latham, on Courtney street, he shot a valuable goat belonging to her, while her little son was in the act of turning her into the yard, from which she had escaped not five minutes previous to the act. She escaped by means of the gate being left open accidentally, but was immediately followed by the boy to turn her back. He was close to her when she was shot, not many feet from the house. I do believe in the goat law, but I do not believe in shooting people's valuable property at their very doors, especially when there is a guide with them, as there was in this case.

THE BRITISH COLONIST

Monday Morning, April 14, 1862.

Later from British Columbia.

THE ICE BLOCKADE RAISED.

Fraser River and the Lakes Open.

INTERESTING FROM CARIBOO.

The steamer Enterprise, Capt. Mouat, arrived on Saturday afternoon last from New Westminster with 10 passengers and the gratifying intelligence that the ice blockade has at last been raised, and that the Col. Moody had taken freight and passengers aboard for Hope and Yale direct. Messrs. Powers, Ballou and Browning came through from Yale to Jeffray's Bar in a canoe on Monday last. At Jeffray's they met the Col. Moody, and Capt. Irving, on hearing from these gentlemen, that the ice above was open, returned immediately to New Westminster for freight and passengers. The Moody was to have left for upriver on Saturday morning last. On the receipt of the glad tidings at New Westminster, our enterprising cotemporary, the British Columbian issued an extra edition, from which we take the following extract:

"We are indebted to Mr. Ballou for an extract from a letter addressed to James Black at Hope, dated 8th April, 1862, from which we learn that the weather has been beautiful for several weeks, grass growing finely, and no snow for 20 days. Packers are waiting for goods at Lillooet and Lytton. Fifteen or twenty mules and thirty head of cattle, died at Bates' Ranch. No other stock of any note has died this winter. From eight to nine hundred head wintered at this ranch. Messrs. Thomas & Walker are said to have lost all their stock."

The following letters from reliable parties, with regard to the condition of the Harrison Lillooet Route, reached us per express. Full reliance may be placed in these reports:

PORT DOUGLAS, 10th April, 1862.

EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST:—The steamer on Anderson Lake crossed over without difficulty on the 21st April. A subscription of $300 was raised at Lillooet and Seaton Lake was cut open by about 40 men, and the steamer Champion is crossing every day. Lillooet Lakes are both clear of ice, and the steamer crossed over yesterday with 54 passengers and freight.

The Express came down yesterday and reports that flour was 28 cts. at Lillooet but coming down, as the lakes being open the prices will have to weaken.

Louis Cardis, the person committed for murder at Chilacotan, escaped from Lillooet jail, and was recaptured on the Bonaparte, but escaped again from McLane's ranch.

Your obdt. servt.

The stage is advertised to leave Douglas on Monday next, and leaves every morning after regularly.

DOUGLAS, April 10, 1862.

EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST:—The Douglas route is open. The steamer Marzelle, on Lillooet Lake, made her first trip yesterday through to Pemberton. Ice all clear on the other lakes.

In haste,

LOOP.

W. T. BALLOU, Esq.:—You will please forward the following facts for publication to the BRITISH COLONIST: That the steamer Lady of the Lake had crossed over Anderson Lake, on the 2d ult., without difficulty. At Lillooet a subscription was raised of $300, and the ice was cut through by about 40 men, and the steamer is now running. Lillooet Lakes are both clear of ice, and the steamer Marzelle crossed over with passengers and freight yesterday, 9th April. The first freight wagon left to-day.

Your obdt. servt.

LATER FROM CARIBOO.

By this arrival we have received a letter from "J. B." an occasional correspondent from the Forks of Quesnelle who writes, under date of January 30th the following items:

The winter so far has passed pleasantly enough. Up to the last week in December there was but little cold weather, but from that time to the present the cold has been intense. Things begin to look business like here.

The miners are preparing to leave for their claims. On the 14th of this month five hand-leighs left here for Williams Creek; each sleigh had on it about 200 or 300 lbs. of grub, etc., and only one man to haul it. The miners are using sleighs on which to haul their provisions to their claims pretty extensively now. It costs about one half what an Indian would charge for packing on his back.

Dogs are very valuable animals here; they work them in sledges. One dog hauls from 250 to 300 pounds, and travel about 20 miles each day. Trains of dogs next winter will make fortunes for their owners by hauling provisions over the snow.

There are a good many men on the North and South Forks of the Quesnelle getting ready to work, and in two weeks more I expect to see them all in working order. There are good diggings on both Forks of the Quesnelle. The miners are buying provisions here daily.

Christmas and New Years passed off quietly. No quarreling or trouble of any kind.

In a short time you will hear of some very rich discoveries. Go around among the boys and almost every one of them has got a new creek to prospect, and they leave every day for that purpose.

Adler & Barry's bridge over the South Fork has been undergoing great improvement for the spring travel. They have apparently saved no expense in making it substantial. It is now almost complete, and I must say that it makes a very fine appearance, and will prove of great benefit to the traveling public.

Through a letter received by Mr. W. H. Woodcock, from the Forks of Quesnelle, we learn that Dr. Walker, an elderly man, was found dead in his cabin recently. The cause of death was not stated. Mining, it was expected, would commence on the north Fork of the Quesnelle about April 1st.

WELL SERVED.—John Butts, since his late election as town-crier, has become as great a nuisance as in former days. On Saturday afternoon, while engaged in "crying" for some entertainment or auction, he took occasion to wind up each "cry" with slanderous remarks against a gentleman of this city. These remarks were delivered at the top of his voice, and greatly to the edification of a crowd of idle men and boys. He had all the fun to himself for a little while, until the gentleman himself chanced along, when he very properly censored the blackguard severely. Some of John's guardian friends—who thought him had more sense—threatened the gentleman with a beating, because of the very severe touncing their favorite had sustained at his hands, but he stood his ground until a policeman appeared, when he was taken into custody and gave bail for his appearance this morning. The Grand Jury should indict Butts as a nuisance, and prevent him from exercising his talent for blackguardism in future.

A CRAZY MAN.—Yesterday officer Jones proceeded to Esquimalt and took into custody a crazy Frenchman, who gave his name as Marchelle. He came here by the Brother Jonathan on Thursday last, and immediately spread his blankets on a high rock overlooking the harbor, where he has remained ever since. His only food is apples, of which he procured a daily supply in town. He expresses his intention to return to California by the next steamer. Forty seven dollars and a knife were found in his possession.

FALL OF A SCAFFOLDING.—At 10 o'clock on Saturday morning the fastenings of a scaffolding in front of Yates' new brick building, upon which several bricklayers were at work, gave way and fell to the ground. The workmen escaped by clinging to an iron bar which had been previously set in the wall. Two or three passers by had the "skin of their teeth" slightly grazed by the falling timbers, but fortunately received no other injury.

INTOLERABLE.—The brief sunshine of Saturday caused the pools of stagnant water and filth in the streets to exude most unpleasant smells, and prove themselves intolerable nuisances. As we write the air is laden with sweet perfume from a deposit of decaying vegetable matter and rain water, at the corner of Tronche alley and Government streets. If the Police Department had not got a cold in its head, we should call for its immediate removal.

ARRIVAL OF THE "OREGON."—The steamship Oregon, from San Francisco on the 7th inst., arrived early yesterday morning, via Whetum, W. T. She landed a number of mules at Bellingham Bay, and also brought live stock to this port. She was observed passing up the Sound on Saturday forenoon, and her appearance gave rise to the report that the Hermann was coming. The Oregon left for San Francisco at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

THE SIERRA NEVADA.—This steamship brought 110 passengers to this port and left last evening with 200 passengers for Portland. On the passage up she is said by passengers to have behaved nobly although exposed to a headwind and heavy sea for the greater part of the trip. She left at 9 o'clock last night for San Francisco via Portland.

NEW BOILER.—The new boiler for the steamer Eliza Anderson was on Saturday successfully discharged from the W. B. Scranton, and placed aboard the former vessel. From the appearance of the boiler, we judge that Capt. Fleming will be able to make lots of steam without fear of bursting.

CORRECTION.—The steamer Emily Harris will leave for Bentinck Arm on Tuesday morning. She will not touch at Bute Inlet as incorrectly announced by "our cotemporary."

THE STEAMERS.—The Hermann was advertised to leave San Francisco for this port on Thursday last, and is due to-day. The Pacific was up for the 12th (Saturday).

U. S. CONSULATE.—Hon. Allen Francis, American Consul to this port, has taken the room previously occupied as the Harbor Master's Office, over St. Ours' Wharf.

FOR STICKEN.—Messrs. McQuade & Co.'s schooner North Star sailed on Saturday evening for Sticken River and Bentinck Arm with 29 passengers.

THE OREGON carried away $33,000 yesterday, shipped by Wells, Fargo & Co.

AT 11 O'CLOCK, this morning, Mr. McCrea will hold an auction of groceries, provisions, and elegant Japanese goods.

THE CLIPPER SHIP Golden Rule cleared from San Francisco for Port Townsend, with only thirty passengers.

THE bark Salamander was yesterday morning towed to Price & Co.'s wharf by the steamer Caledonia.

Arrival of the Sierra Nevada.States' News to the 5th inst.

The steamship Sierra Nevada arrived at 9 o'clock, P. M., on Saturday night, with States dates to the 5th inst. and California papers to the 8th. The news though unimportant is interesting, and we present our readers with a comprehensive summary:

WASHINGTON, March 29.

In answer to the memorial of a large number of citizens of Boston, requesting the immediate trial of Gen. Stone, Secretary Stanton says that a trial by Court Martial will be had so soon as officers can be convened without detriment to the public service.

BOSTON, March 29.

Nineteen fishing vessels were lost in a gale between the 1st and 4th of February, off Gloucester, Mass.; 138 fishermen were drowned.

FORTRESS MONROE, March 29th.

The steamer Suance arrived from Newbern. Burnside has taken possession of Beaufort. No show of resistance was made by the rebels. No property was burned. Fort Macon still occupied by 500 rebels. They were entirely cut off from communication with the rebels, and must soon surrender.

ROLLA, Mo., March 29.

Reliable information from the army of the southwest says the rebels number 35,000 under Van Dorn. Price retreated entirely across the Boston Mountains, and is now at Van Buren. Fort Smith is receiving supplies from Little Rock via Arkansas River. The Texas troops are very much disheartened at the death of McCullough. The Arkansas troops feel severely the loss of McIntosh. The rebels badly need clothing, shoes, and pikes. The Indians have mostly returned to the Indian nation; they were not formidable in battle, being panic-struck with the effects of our artillery. Price has received a commission as major general. One regiment of Texas troops reached Van Buren on the 17th, to reinforce Van Dorn, and more were expected from Louisiana. Whole rebel reinforcements, however, will not exceed 50,000 for the next six weeks. Very little Union sentiment has been developed in Arkansas.

WASHINGTON, March 30.

A special despatch to the New York papers states that a division of the Potomac army is in quiet possession of Warrenton Junction, fifteen miles beyond Manassas.

The railroad bridge across the Rappahannock was burned on Friday by the rebels, in face of our reconnaissance. There was a slight skirmish, but no loss of life.

NEW YORK, March 30.

The steamer Empire City has arrived from Port Royal. The sentiment of Eastern Florida is declared loyal. Rebel deserters are numerous; many of them are willing to take up arms against the rebel tyranny. Our troops are treated cordially.

The gunboat Ottawa has been 20 miles up the St. John's river beyond Jacksonville, meeting no opposition.

Pensacola has been evacuated, including Forts McRae and Barrancas.

There is no truth in the reported capture of Yancy.

CHICAGO, April 1.

The Memphis Appeal says the recent reverses of the Confederate army were nerveing them with faith, hope and confidence.

It also states that Van Dorn and Jeff. Thompson were concentrating a large force in Arkansas, to attack Pope at New Madrid. No damage had been done to the Island, but the Confederates had sunk two Federal gunboats. The works at Fort Pillow were completed.

The Charleston Mercury, in view of the scarcity of lead, suggests that the linings in tea chests be melted into bullets. The ladies of Charleston are contributing money, jewels, and silver spoons to build a gunboat to be called the "Ladies' Gunboat."

In the Senate, Mr. Sumner introduced a resolution, that the Committee on the conduct of the war be instructed to collect evidence in regard to barbarous treatment by the rebels at Manassas of officers and soldiers of the United States, killed in battle there. He wanted a record for his history. Howard moved to enlarge the resolution so as to include whether the rebels enlisted Indians who committed unheard of barbarities. The resolution thus amended was adopted.

ROLLA, Mo., April 1.

Letters from the army in the Southwest say that rebels under Van Dorn and Price were moving towards Memphis in response to Beauregard's call for help. All the rebel forces in West Tennessee were to concentrate for a great and desperate struggle.

CHICAGO, April 1.

New York despatches of to-day say that the bill chartering the Central American Transit Company passed both Houses.

The New Jersey Legislature has incorporated a company which intends establishing a line of steamers between Jersey city and San Francisco with a capital of $5,000,000.

Advices have been received from Savannah, Tenn. Scouts came in who have been several miles inside the enemy's lines; all concur in estimating the rebel force at Corinth and vicinity at over 75,000. They report daily arrivals from the Gulf States. Impressments were also going vigorously forward. The advance posts of the rebels were taking all they could find, willing or unwilling, and they are hurried into the ranks. Corinth deserters say the army is full of such, and they only remain through the difficulty of getting away. Meanwhile Beauregard is pushing forward every preparation for a formidable resistance. Outposts have been established at Purdy, Inca, and other points on the railroad at and above Chickasaw, and six miles in front of Corinth, directly towards our advance from Pittsburgh Landing. Fortifications are being erected at Corinth. Raw levies are being put in an efficient state as fast as possible. Correspondents say the great mass of the people are lukewarm, but the leaders are Secessionists, which accounts for Union feeling previously published, though highly colored.

Union City, Ky., was captured by the Federals on the 29th of March.

The Charleston Mercury of the 22d of March says: President Davis, in secret session, has advised the Confederate Congress that the prisoners of war released by the Yankee Government upon parole, should be released from their oath and allowed to take part in the struggle for independence. He urges as a reason for this infamous recklessness, the breach of faith exhibited by Mr. Lincoln in the exchange of prisoners.

Attempts are being made to raise troops by conscription. Editors and compositors are not enrolled, except for local duty.

Jeff. Thompson was concentrating a large force at Pocahontas, preparatory to an attack on the Federals at New Madrid, where Gen. Pope will be compelled to evacuate the place.

In Mississippi the planters are putting their cotton in a condition to be ready for burning.

Pillow has gone to Richmond.

40 or 50 soldiers have come into Hickman, given up their arms and desired to return to their allegiance and join the Federal army. They reported a large number of rebel troops disbanded.

Indications point to Corinth, Miss., as the place of the next great battle between the Union troops and the Confederates. That vicinity contains almost the entire Western strength of the latter. The fight will no doubt be long and desperate, with more troops engaged than were at the battle of Waterloo.

Commodore Foote is waiting for something which is tolerably certain to occur, and would seem to render the reduction of Island No. 10 comparatively easy, or compel its capitulation by a flank movement of the land forces.

WASHINGTON, April 2.

Intelligence has been received from Richmond via Baltimore, that the rebels are sending their tobacco to the interior towards Danville and Farmersville, and beyond Petersburg. It is added that private citizens have no control over the cotton and tobacco, the military having assumed charge there.

WASHINGTON, April 2.

A citizen of Cambridge, who went to Bull Run to recover the remains of a brother who was killed in that battle, gives a melancholy account of the sacrilegious robbing of the graves of our soldiers by the rebels. Twenty members of a Boston company and a Chelsea Company had been buried near each other, but every skull had been carried away, and nearly all the principal bones of the body were gone. Some of the bodies had been dug up, others were pressed out with a lever, and in some cases the bones of the arms were taken.

BALTIMORE, April 2.

Bankers and shopkeepers in Charleston, S. C., refused to take North Carolina money on the receipt of the news of the fall of Newbern.

No direct information as to the abandonment of Pensacola by the rebels has been received. It is generally believed, however, that our troops had crossed over from Santa Rosa Island, and occupied the place.

The latest advices from Norfolk leave no doubt that the Merrimack has been thoroughly repaired. The delay in her coming out is believed to be that she is waiting ammunition for her new guns. As to the loss of life on her in her engagement with the Monitor, it is now positively stated by a contraband, who was a nurse in the general hospital at Norfolk, that before his departure he helped to shroud 32 of her crew. Both Commander Buchanan and Lieut. McRae were killed. The contraband also states that it is represented that the last two shots fired by the Monitor were the only ones that seriously injured the Merrimack.

The military stationed at Norfolk from the Gulf States has been very severe on the civility since the defeat at Roanoke. Gov. Wise has so fallen in public opinion that he is proclaimed in Norfolk a coward and poltroon, so he has retired to his farm in Princess Anne county.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 2.

Gov. Sprague, with the rest of the present incumbent State officers, were re-elected to-day without opposition.

LOUISVILLE, April 2.

Reliable information from Memphis reports Gen. Sidney Johnson as saying that the fortifications were useless, as the Federals could outflank them by any position they might take. He things the only chance for the rebels is an open fight in the field. Our informant says the rebels had 50,000 troops in a line between Huntsville and Memphis, which were being daily reinforced.

The citizens of Memphis say that they would yield forthwith, if assured of their personal safety and security to property from confiscation by the Federal Government.

CAIRO, April 2.

Advices from Island No. 10, last night, states that large gangs of men and teams were at work repairing the upper battery and mounting guns, and new and extensive lines of fortifications were being erected on the main shore. Three or four large new camps have been established. They have evidently been reinforced. A new battery has also been established on the Island. Transports have been busily plying from the head and foot of the Island all day.

CHICAGO, April 3.

Woodstock, Va., April 3.—Gen. Banks advanced from Strasburg this morning. When approaching this place Ashby's cavalry disrupted his passage ineffectually, and his force passed through town, the rebels frequently stopping to throw shells, to which we responded with effect. Banks pursued the rebels to Edinburg, five miles beyond here. Ashby, in retreating, burned two turnpike and one railroad bridge between here and Strasburg. One man was killed on our side. Our men behaved admirably. Our skirmishers were frequently fired on by the rebel's rear guard.

CAIRO, April 3.

Intelligence has been received from Island No. 10. No injury whatever occurred to the gunboats by the tornadoes. Two transports were considerably damaged, and returned to Cairo for repairs. The rebel transports were more exposed than ours, and it is thought they suffered severely during the storm which prevailed on the 1st.

WASHINGTON, April 3.

Major Leonardson, from New Mexico, arrived to-day, and says the rebels hold every position of value, except Forts Craig and Union. The latter, which is the most important in the West, contains $1,000,000 worth of Government stores. It is now safe beyond peradventure, and garrisoned by 1500 soldiers, has water inside the fortification, and provisions almost unlimited for a siege.

WASHINGTON, April 3.

Special dispatches to the New York papers state that Mr. Secretary Stanton has issued orders forbidding all newspaper correspondents, as well as others not connected with the service, from accompanying any of the corps d'armee on the Potomac.

The Richmond Examiner, received here, states that the large owners of tobacco and cotton, before submitting to its destruction, will raise the flags of foreign governments and protest against it.

Special dispatches to the New York papers announce that to-day the rebels had to burn Richmond, on the approach of the Union army.

A despatch from Augusta, Ga., March 31st, says the Charleston papers contain a despatch from New Orleans of the 29th, stating that two Federal gunboats commenced an attack on Fort Jackson, at the mouth of the Mississippi river, the day before. Up to dates of despatch nobody hurt.

The bill to abolish slavery in the District of Columbia has passed the Senate.

WHEELING, Va., April 3.

The vote of this city to-day, was 640 majority for the new constitution; majority of 383 in favor of gradual emancipation. The interior counties, so far as heard from, give the same ratio.

ARCHERSON, Kansas, April 4.

The first officer of the steamer Conestoga, who left Island No. 10 at noon of the 3d, says that a rebel transport attempted to remove cannon the previous night from the upper fort, but was shelled by some of our mortar boats and compelled to hasten down the river without having accomplished her object.

The Polar Star came up to Cairo from Hickman on the 3d, with 400 hogheads of sugar and 650 barrels of molasses, belonging to private parties, and will be taken to St. Louis.

BALTIMORE, April 4.

The following intelligence is from the special correspondent at Fortress Monroe of the Baltimore American: The number of rebels at Fort Pulaski was reported by deserters at 500. Two German companies had revolted and were in arms. The rebels have withdrawn all their troops from the coast and abandoned their earthworks, previous to removing their cannon to Savannah. The city of Savannah, however, is understood to be very strongly fortified, and all the approaches to it. The force there is variously estimated at from 20,000 to 50,000.

Great despondency existed among the troops and people at Charleston.

CAIRO, April 4.

It is said that the gunboats and mortar boats will take a new position near its upper fort on Island No. 10, and open a flanking fire upon those remaining on the main land. The rebels about Island No. 10 erected batteries all along the Tennessee shore to prevent the landing of Federal troops from Missouri.

The World says, information from a reliable source says: Beauregard has been outflanked at Corinth, and compelled to fall back, and that a heavy body of troops are between him and the Mississippi.

CAIRO, April 4.

Reliable information from the Tennessee river says the gunboats Cairo, Lexington and Laydon, made a reconnaissance up the Tennessee river as far as Florence. No resistance was offered. They discovered only one deserted battery, where the enemy had nine guns. The Tennessee river is now open as far as navigable for steamers.

The order prohibiting reporters accompanying the army is revoked.

It is stated that the rebel commander Totten has been assigned to the command of the Merrimack.

A large amount of property has been abandoned by the rebels at Manassas, including wagons.

NEW YORK, April 5.

A Key West correspondent of a Boston journal, under date of March 24th, says the Union fleet was represented at the head of the Passes by sloops of war Hartford and Brooklyn, and a large portion of Commander Porter's flotilla. On the evening of the 17th and morning of the 18th, heavy and continuous firing was heard upon the river, our Navy being engaged with the enemy. The gunboats and bomb-shooters were inside the bar. Two were in tow of the steamer Harriet Lane, going up the Pass, and two other gunboats were engaged in towing the rest of the Mortar fleet up the Delta.

CAIRO, April 5.

During the night of the 3d, the rebels erected a new battery opposite Point Pleasant, and in the morning opened fire upon our works. After firing some time with no effect, it was silenced by our guns. No casualties reported on our side—loss of the rebels not known. The firing yesterday was more active and did good execution. In the evening one shell struck directly on their floating battery, killing 3 men, disabling it so that it floated down towards the island. The telegraph between here and New Madrid having been cut, Gen. Pope issued orders informing residents along the route that they would be held responsible for its safety; if torn down hereafter their houses and barns should be burned and themselves and families arrested and brought to camp and visited with the severest punishment.

All the officers of the recruiting service have been ordered to join their regiments.

Notice has been given to the Governors of States that no new enlistments are to be made until further orders from the War Department—the force now in the field being deemed amply sufficient to suppress the rebellion, and bring the war to a speedy termination.

[Gov. Stanford received this morning a despatch dated April 3d, from Washington, ordering all recruiting in this State to be stopped.—ED. BULLETIN.]

EUROPEAN.

The late Federal successes had caused belief among the French merchants that peaceful arrangements would shortly be made. The effect on the manufacturing districts was favorable.

The insurgents of Syria have proclaimed Victor Emanuel's second son King of Greece. The Grecian troops had taken all the fortifications at Napoli.

President Lincoln's emancipation scheme elicited much attention in England.

The Liverpool Post says it will have an incalculable effect in Europe, most favorable to the Northern cause.

The London Times says it is the most important news since the split proposition—important not for its intrinsic likelihood of acceptance, but simply because it is a proposition and the first bid made towards putting an end to the war. The North may gradually rise in offers until something acceptable will have been put forth. In every point the proposal of the President gives great satisfaction. It is speculative, perhaps, of some glimpse of hope, but it is for what it may proceed, not for what it actually is.

Gibraltar advises to the 4th state that the Federal vessels Tuscara, Keansage (?) and Ino are at Algiers. The Lieutenant of the Sumter and the ex-U. S. Consul at Cadiz, who were arrested at Tangiers, have been transferred from the Ino to the Harvest Home, bound for Boston.

A general meeting of the Atlantic Telegraph Company was held in London on the 19th. The Director's report was adopted. Hopeful news are entertained of the work.

Marine statistics show that during the five months ending the 1st of January, 36 vessels laden with flour and grain from America to England were lost, the total cargoes of which exceed 709,000 bushels.

From France we have news that additional troops are being sent to Mexico. The new brigade was to leave London the following week.

Advices from Rome state that the Pope had been ill the past week, his strength almost prostrated, and his audiences had been suspended.

In Austria great precautions were being taken by the Government for a movement on the Venetian frontiers. The advance posts had been doubled and garrisons augmented. Troops had also been posted along the river Po. The Emperor had gone from Venice to Vicenza.

The English papers are filled with discussions of President Lincoln's emancipation message. The Times thinks cold water on it. The News is more magnanimous. The Morning Star also approves it; the Post treats it as a vain scheme and last passage of a Government which feels that it is engaged in a struggle which, if continued, must inevitably ruin it. The Globe regards it as political strategy and assumption of deep misgiving in the Washington Cabinet, touching the important question of the pursuit of the war beyond the limits required to establish and arrange relations with the rebel States. The Herald thinks both sides will regard it dishonorable to compromise.

The French Corps Legislatif adopted the whole address to the Emperor—245 to 9. The Patrie asserts that nothing will be done in regard to Mexico, until the arrival of Gen. Lorence, who took out formal instructions and programme.

The Pope was again ill and very weak. All business was suspended. Garibaldi had left Turin. A good understanding exists between him and Pol-sac, Minister of State.

A despatch from Syria says the royal troops had restored order throughout Greece.

It is asserted that after nine months' solicitation Omar Pacha has obtained permission for the Porte to attack Montenegro.

Notice to the Public.
SAINSEVAIN'S WINE BITTERS, OR SAINSEVAIN'S VERMOUTH. These Bitters are obtaining a widespread celebrity in all parts of the State. It is sufficient evidence of their great merit to observe the large quantities shipped by our principal Wine Merchants to every part of the country.

Sainsevain, however, like all other manufacturers of new and valuable articles, has to contend with unscrupulous parties, who are introducing a spurious mixture purporting to be his Wine Bitters, which noxious compounds are put up in the same style of bottles, labels, etc., so as to pass for the Sainsevain brand. We call attention to this fact so that our brand may be upon their guard, and that when they ask for Sainsevain's Bitters, they get that they get them. As pure Wine is destined to drive from use all alcoholic decoctions, so these Bitters will soon take the place of the adulterated preparations which now flood our market. Those desiring a pure and agreeable tonic should try Sainsevain's Wine Bitters of California Vermouth.

We have appointed W. H. OLIVER, of Victoria, V. I., to be our Sole Agent for the British Possessions.
